

For those who care

Written by Administrator

Thursday, 14 May 2009 13:52 - Last Updated Thursday, 26 May 2011 15:37

For people who care:

We are ready to accept any help for people with autism. It may be:

- Financial support

All the money raised from charity events are forwarded to needs of people with autism. Financial support can be used in two directions: by us to disseminate information about autism problem among the public or by our partners (charity funds) to support urgent needs of people with autism.

- Volunteer support

A lot of useful events are restricted because of the absence of human resources who help adults and children that are not always independent. That's why it is very important to know people who are not indifferent and can spend their time with the ill. Our mission is to find volunteers and direct their efforts.

- Engagement of the web-site www.autism.in.ua

We are glad to take part in events that inform about the problems of autism and the ways of their solution.

- Co-actions

If you have any ideas that can help ill people please let us know. We'll try to implement them. Also we can exchange banners. This will help to expand the information about autism to mass audience and the visitors of our web-site can get to know about You and Your activity.

If you have decided to help, please contact autism.ua@gmail.com